Lance Manywounds

Board Member and Principal, Urban Communities

Biography

Lance Manywounds is an entrepreneur from Calgary, Canada who has started 3 successful companies after retiring from professional golf in 2012.

He has a joy for family (happily married father of 4) and life which is evident in everything he does. That passion carries through to his work and has been the cornerstone to everything he's done up to this point.

He has grown a small fix and flip business into a multi-million dollar company, Subu Capital, that builds and repositions large scale multifamily buildings across North America.

Lance is the co-founder of Subu Capital. They are aggressively working to come up with large scale solutions to help alleviate the affordable housing problems in North America. He joined the board of Urban Communities, LLC in 2021.

His passion for helping others has allowed him to acquire a unique set of skills across multiple disciplines (Professional sports, Health, Real Estate, Finance) which allows him to see opportunity where others may not.
